UNDERSTANDING COVENANT THEOLOGY

Interpreting the Bible through 3 Divine Covenants

Covenant of Redemption: Eternal agreement within the Godhead in which the Father chose a people to save, appointed his Son to redeem them, and the Spirit applying this redeeming work to this elect people.

Covenant of Works: God's promise of eternal life for Adam's (federal head of mankind) obedience and death for disobedience.

Covenant of Grace: God's promise of eternal life for all who have faith in Jesus Christ who is the second Adam.

The 'Construct' Covenants

Terms not in the Bible, but the concepts derived or 'constructed' from the complete witness of Scripture. They are like the mass of an iceberg beneath the water. They organize and harmonize the biblical covenants.

CLAIMS OF COVENANT THEOLOGY

- Views the bible as a covenant book describing the divine-human relationship
- Centered on Jesus Christ and his redemptive work
- Unifies God's plan through the lens of the Old and New Covenants
- Unifies God's work of redeeming one people -(the elect) Israel/Church

UNDERSTANDING REFORMED THEOLOGY

Interpreting the Bible through 3 Divine Covenants

- The two main traditional protestant theologies descending from the Reformation are Reformed and Lutheran, with Anglicans also making claim.
- Reformed Theology refers to confessions of faith and formal church bodies, whereas Calvinism is a theology of doctrine.

UNDERSTANDING REFORMED THEOLOGY

- To be Calvinist is to hold to the 5 points of Calvinism.
- To be Covenantal is to hold to the covenantal framework of the bible.
- To be Confessional is to hold to one of the historic confessions of the faith.
- To be Reformed is to be Calvinistic, covenantal, confessional, plus two other convictions: #1 the ordinary means of grace through corporate local church practices, and #2 the distinction between the law and the Gospel.
